

UKULELE

A BRIEF INTRODUCTION

Thank you for borrowing a ukulele from Southport Library

Our mission at the North West Ukulele Project is to use the ukulele as a tool for building communities, confidence, combating loneliness and promoting wellbeing. We really love this little instrument and hope that you do too.

This is a brief introduction to get you going. Following this you can access song-sheets and videos on our online resource. Sign up as a Community member for FREE using the code OBGMS4R643 Clicking on 'Library' in the search will show you a list of what you can access. The library also has some great ukulele method books.

How about using the map on our website to check out where your nearest ukulele group is? or joining our Facebook Group.

We would LOVE to hear how you are getting on so please let us know via social media or pop us an email.

From your chin to your feet your ukulele should be tuned:

We use this rhyme to help remember:

up your own rhyme?

Holding Your Ukulele

How you hold your ukulele can be important to avoiding any strain or injury whilst playing. Here are our top tips!

Hug

Give your ukulele a hug! Make sure that the ukulele is up against your body and give your ukulele a hug. Make sure not to hold on too tight. There should be no tension anywhere in your body.

Eat

Your other hand should be at an angle as if you are feeding yourself something delicious, yum yum! This is because the muscles in our arms are designed to feed ourselves, plate to mouth.

To begin with this might be tricky as you will be looking at your fretboard. This might make the next step tricky too but once you are confident with the chords you should be looking less at the fretboard and more ahead.

Sit

If you are sitting make sure that you are sitting up straight, no slouching! If you are in a chair you should really be able to put your feet on the ground

You might want to sit on the floor with your legs crossed but again no slouching!

Stand

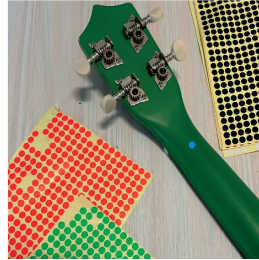

If you are standing whilst you play you might consider getting a strap for your ukulele. This reassures you that you are not going to drop your ukulele!

Holding Your Ukulele continued....

Thumb Make sure that your thumb rests gently on the back of the neck. There should be no strain or pain in your thumb

With some of my students I place a sticker on the back where my students should place their thumb

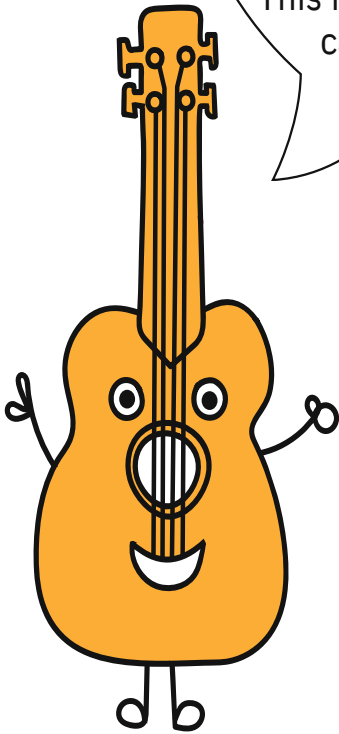

Elbows Make sure that your elbows are out and not tucked up against your body.

Fingers Whether you are strumming, fingerpicking or holding down the chords you should never be pushing/strumming so hard that your fingers hurt.

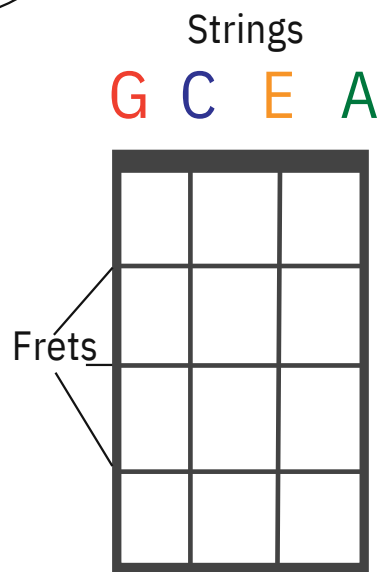

If you need support strumming then you could look at getting a felt pick

With practice your fretting fingers will grow stronger. If you are holding the strings down to the point of pain to get a clear sound then trying moving your finger closer to the fret.

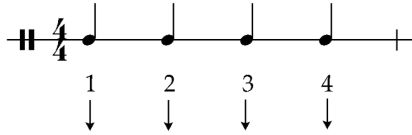

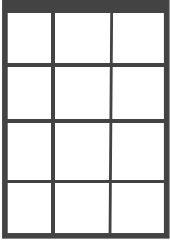

This diagram tells us to play all 4 strings open.

Ukulele Buddies

Ukulele Buddies are donating all the loan ukuleles to the ukulele loan scheme, and have collaborated with the Ukulele Project, Southport library and Karine Woodward to help create the new ukulele teaching course at The Atkinson.

We've even gifted some of our treasured ukuleles from personal collections so we can pass on the enjoyment of playing ukulele with others. We love this instrument so much that we want to pass on the joy of playing it to others.

We were formed in 2019 and gig regularly across Southport and the surrounding areas. We currently operate a wait list for new members. You are welcome to follow us on social media and come to our local gigs.
